

Foundations Course in Veterinary Homeopathy 2025

Syllabus Overview and Book List

To help you purchase your books and gain an idea of the costs for the materials, a link for each book has been provided along with the price of each book. If you buy your book from a different source than the one provided, please be sure it is still the correct book and especially with the Organon: choose the proper edition and editor.

Select new or used based on your personal preference. There are free PDF options available for some of the books. There are quite a few books on this list because we want to build your knowledge from a variety of resources, not just one author or one textbook. This looks like a big list, but it won't break your budget. Even if you buy all these required books new, you'll spend just over $300. And think of the homeopathic library you'll have!

Required Books

- Homeopathy: Beyond Flat Earth Medicine, by Tim Dooley, MD, ND

  - *Note: this is available as a free pdf, but it's awkward the way it's laid out on the screen, and we highly recommend the printed book instead.

Required Homeopathy Software

- Radar Opus <https://www.radaropus.us/>
- Student Package $350 - to be added to April invoice
- The software will be emailed to students after purchase in April – you will want to install it on a computer/laptop that you will be using during class lectures. Good homeopathic prescribing cannot be done without this software program. If you already have homeopathic software on your computer, (either Radar or MacRep), please let us know and we will omit this fee from your invoice.

Recommended Books, not required

- Desktop Companion to Physical Pathology, Roger Morrison
- Keynotes: Red Line Symptoms of the Materia Medica, by Adolphe von Lippe
- Practical Handbook of Veterinary Homeopathy, Wendy Jensen DVM

If you have a conflict for one of these days or part of the day, the webinar can be watched at a later date, but please let us know in advance, as additional homework/quiz assessments may be given to assess learning comprehension and confirm recorded webinar review.

Syllabus Overview

Course Outline

In each session, half of the day will be dedicated to theory and principles, and the other half will involve the application of learned material to clinical cases. Radar Homeopathy software will be used in clinical application to help students become rapidly comfortable with the program. This course is taught using spiral learning application, in which students will learn by seeing the same concept applied in multiple different approaches.

Session One:

The goals of session one is to introduce the foundations of homeopathic healing and its application to veterinary medicine for acute prescribing. We will also introduce the concepts of chronic disease, and how to differentiate between acute illness and acute flare ups of chronic disease.

- Introduction to Homeopathy webinar (to be reviewed before class)
- Foundations in Theory of Homeopathic Healing
- Communicating Homeopathic Philosophy to Clients and Colleagues
- Integrating Homeopathy into Your Practice
- Keynote Prescribing for Acute Conditions, including
  - Gastrointestinal complaints
  - Respiratory illness
  - Acute injuries and trauma
  - Lameness
- Principles of Case Intake – acute and chronic disease
- Training and application of Radar Homeopathic Software for cases
- Business Models for Homeopathy

Sessions Two through Five:

The goals of these sessions are to teach chronic disease from the perspective of homeopathic healing and cure, which occurs at the level of the vital force using the totality of symptoms. The faculty will combine the theory and principles of classical homeopathy with the clinical applications of veterinary medicine. Session Five will consist entirely of clinical practice application of chronic disease.

Objectives and Topics in Chronic Disease Sessions

- Understand the difference between palliation, suppression, and cure
- Recognize the patient's totality of symptoms
- Interpret healing based on Hering's Law of Cure
- Learn to recognize the patterns of disease in relation to chronic miasms

- Know the major anti-miasmatic polycrest remedies and be able to recognize them in patients
- Develop case-receiving strategies for intake consultations for initiating treatment of chronic disease
- Develop skill in managing chronic cases, including evaluation of patient response and second prescription
- Understand the importance of posology in remedy selection for each patient
- Use of LM/Q potency prescription
- Demonstrate the theory of homeopathic healing in clinical situations, using cases from faculty instructor's practice and cases from students
- Understanding application of homeopathic healing for chronic conditions including but not limited to:
  - Cancer
  - Dermatitis, otitis, allergies
  - Digestive disorders
  - Seizures and neurologic conditions
  - Immune mediated diseases and disorders
  - Hospice care
